Part I: Multiple Choice Questions (0.15 each = 3.0)

01. According to the comic strip:

- Calvin's mom is concerned about his safety.
- Calvin intends to attend a fancy dress ball.
- Calvin doesn't want anything bad happening to his mom.
- Calvin's mom believes her son might have a point.
- Calvin's mom envies her son's ingenuity.

02. According to the cartoon, one can conclude that:

- Although people understand that making mistakes is part of the human nature, few people really forgive.
- The boss understands the employee's mistakes and comforts him by saying that erring is human.
- The employee admits making the mistake and the boss gives him a lecture on the power of forgiveness.
- Forgiving is part of the human nature as well as erring.
- People cling to the idea that erring is human but forget that forgiving is not.

"To err is human, but to forgive is unusual."

03. Read the text below and answer appropriately.

"First I was dying to finish high school and start college.
And then I was dying to finish college and start working.
And then I was dying to marry and have children.
And then I was dying for my children to grow old enough for school so I could return to work.
And then I was dying to retire.
And now, I am dying.... and suddenly I realize I forgot to live."

According to the text, which information about the author is true?

- a. He was anxious to run away from school.
- b. He would like to have stayed at school a bit longer.
- c. What he wished the most before dying was to go to a school.
- d. At the end of his life, he wished he could live his life over again.
- e. He criticizes all institutions.

04. Read the text below and answer appropriately.

No smiling!

When you are with your Korean business client, stop yourself from smiling too much - in the Korean culture, frequent grinning signals pressure and touching your nose is very rude. On the other hand, you can hug your Russian clients tight as that is acceptable in their culture. Never signal to a Somali with your finger, as the gesture is only for dogs, and don't touch a Sikh's turban without permission. And to further confuse you, the Bulgarians nod for no and shake their heads for yes.

According to the text it is correct to say that:

- a. If you point at a Somali, he thinks you are a nasty dog.
- b. The Bulgarians don't know the difference between 'yes' or 'no'.
- c. Putting your arms around a Russian is adequate.
- d. Avoid smiling too much when around a Korean as he might consider it to be very rude.
- e. Touching a Sikh is advisable.

Do one thing for diversity and inclusion

www.unaoc.org

The United Nations Alliance of Civilizations (UNAOC) is launching a campaign aimed at engaging people around the world to Do One Thing to support Cultural Diversity and Inclusion. Every one of us can do ONE thing for diversity and inclusion; even one very little thing can become a global action if we all take part in it.

Simple things YOU can do to celebrate the World Day for Cultural Diversity for Dialogue and Development on May 21.

- 1. Visit an art exhibit or a museum dedicated to other cultures.
- 2. Read about the great thinkers of other cultures.
- 3. Visit a place of worship different than yours and participate in the celebration.
- 4. Spread your own culture around the world and learn about other cultures.
- 5. Explore music of a different culture.

There are thousands of things that you can do, are you taking part in it?

05. Internet users often express their opinions on online articles by posting comments. The comment that exemplifies the proposed engagement in the fourth tip of the campaign presented in the text is:

- "In my school, I learned to play capoeira for a presentation on the Day of Black Consciousness."
- "The other day I watched on TV a report on respect for diversity. People of all kinds, various tribes. I did enjoy it."
- "I signed up for the Youth Ambassadors Program to show others what is good in my country and learn about different people in other countries."
- "I love online chatting. My foreign friends help me improve my proficiency in a foreign language."
- "I did research on cooking sites and prepared an Arabic party for some friends from school. They loved it, especially the sweets!"

06. Which of these situations would be a good example of "no news is good news"?

- A good hatchback can be a lovely and practical car. The A5 Sportback is neither. The good news is that Audi doesn't plan to sell it in the United States.
- We're given the information from the client. We represent monster slippers. What we're doing is always looking at various newsworthy ways of promoting them.
- Rhea wasn't paying attention to the news. Now, she finds it amusing to cast an eye at the news of the world and weigh in.
- A group of Bank of America employees decided to have a drink in a bar at La Guardia. As they chatted, they heard a newscast that a plane had crashed into the Hudson. They leaned in to hear listen better.
- I now know he's back in the clinic, getting the treatment, but I haven't got any further information about his health. I guess he's probably responding to the treatment and everything is OK.

Part II: Reading Comprehension (1,9)

Game on

The travel industry has been quick to jump on the Pokémon Go bandwagon

Aug 20th 2016, 13:34 BY J.J.C

<http://www.economist.com/blogs/gulliver/2016/08/game>

ONLY readers living under a rock for the past two months will be unaware of Pokémon Go. The smartphone game, which overlays augmented-reality onto real-world locations, has been downloaded some 100m times on Google Play alone. Players hunt for their favourite characters at "Pokéstops" and send them into gladiatorial battle in "Pokégymns". Some Pokémon are only found in certain parts of the world. As a result any player dedicated to the game's mantra of "Gotta catch them all" needs to travel.

This has made the travel and hospitality industry sit up and take note. Without warning, a host of businesses and landmarks have found themselves swarming with eager gamers staring at iPhones. Initially, bars and cafes lucky enough to be assigned as Pokéstops paid for "lures", a feature of the game that allows them to attract more Pokémon (and therefore players). Now the travel industry has ramped things up and Pokémon tourism is the fad.

A. Match the following sentences to form the 3rd paragraph of the text: (0.1 each = 0.6)

1. Cities are selling themselves to	( ) their travel plans to accommodate gameplay.
2. Guided tours have sprung up	( ) to allow tourists to hunt rare monsters.
3. All this may seem irrelevant to business travellers,	( ) by claiming guests do not even need to get out of bed to catch a passing Bulbasaur.
4. Hotels are promoting themselves	( ) based on the concentration of Pokéstops and Pokégymns they have.

The fallout from Ryan Lochte's story about being robbed at gunpoint in Rio- a tale the Brazilian police said was not true – continued Monday when four companies said they would end business _____ (01) with Mr. Lochte, an American swimmer and 12-time Olympic medalist.

After a week of intense international media attention and anger in Brazil, the financial _____ (02) were swift for Mr. Lochte as Speedo USA, the luxury clothing retailer Ralph Lauren and the mattress company Airweave all announced that they would part ways with him. And Syneron Candela, a company that sells hair-removal devices, told Reuters its relationship with the swimmer ended on Sunday.

Speedo USA said in a message on Twitter that it would instead donate a $50,000 portion of Mr. Lochte's fee to a _____ (03) to help Brazilian children.

"While we have enjoyed a winning relationship with Ryan for over a decade and he has been an important member of the Speedo team, we cannot condone _____ (04) that is counter to the values this brand has long stood for," the company said in its statement.

On Monday, Kim Angelastro, a spokeswoman for Syneron Candela, wrote in an email, "We hold our employees to high _____ (05), and we expect the same of our business partners." Mr. Lochte was a spokesman for the company's Gentle Hair Removal brand.

Through a spokeswoman, Ralph Lauren said Monday that Mr. Lochte's endorsement agreement with the clothing company had been for only the 2016 Olympics, and that his contract would not be _____ (06).

Airweave said on Twitter that "after careful consideration, we have made the decision to end our partnership with Ryan Lochte."

The decisions to cut ties with Mr. Lochte, 32, were the first major signs of the financial fallout for him. For the past week, he has been at the center of an international _____ (09) after the Brazilian police said he and three other American athletes - Jimmy Feigen, Jack Conger and Gunnar Bentz - had fabricated the account of being robbed after a late-night party in Rio de Janeiro.

The authorities said that the swimmers had instead drunkenly _____ (10) a gas station bathroom, paying a security guard about $50 for the damage before leaving. Mr. Lochte originally said that the car they were traveling in had been stopped by armed men, who held a gun to his head. But his story later changed.
